

Melinda L. Dolan, M.S., CCC-SLP

505-277-8736 mldolan@unm.edu

EMPLOYMENT HISTORY

University of New Mexico – Department of Speech and Hearing Sciences

September 2011 – present

Speech-Language Pathologist/Clinical Instructor

Albuquerque Public Schools

January 1983 – September 2011

Speech-Language Pathologist/Practicum and Internship Supervisor

EDUCATION

Master of Science in Communicative Disorders

University of New Mexico

December 1982

Bachelor of Arts in Communicative Disorders with Psychology Minor

University of New Mexico

May 1981

PRESENTATIONS/TEACHING

University of New Mexico – Department of Speech and Hearing Sciences

Instructor of Record ♦ SHS 500.001 Clinic Lab: Intervention

Fall 2011 – present

University of New Mexico – Department of Speech and Hearing Sciences

Co-Instructor ♦ SHS 500.002 Clinic Lab: Diagnostics

Fall 2013 – present

University of New Mexico – Department of Speech and Hearing Sciences

Co-Instructor ♦ SHS 458 Preclinical Training

Spring 2014

University of New Mexico – Department of Speech and Hearing Sciences

Instructor of Record ♦ SHS 458 Preclinical Training

Spring 2005, Spring 2006, Spring 2007

University of New Mexico – Department of Speech and Hearing Sciences

Convocation Guest Speaker

December 2010 and May 2015

Association of Christian Schools International (ACSI)

Conference Speaker

Topics related to childhood speech-language/literacy development

January 2008 and January 2010

Albuquerque Public Schools

Assorted inservice presentations to school staff and speech-language pathology colleagues

January 1983 – August 2011

PROFESSIONAL AREAS OF INTEREST

Intervention related to:

- the interrelationship and development of language and literacy skills in school age and adolescent populations
- the development of social communication skills in school age and adolescent populations